

PATERSON CO. ASKS $227,500 DAMAGES OF LABOR UNIONS

Suit Filed in Federal District Court in Philadelphia

1ST OF KIND IN AREA

Hearing Upon Action In Bucks County Court Is Postponed

(By International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 27.—A Bristol, Pa., paper firm has filed suit against two labor unions claiming $227,500 damages under the Taft-Hartley Act.

The suit, first of its kind in this area, was lodged by the Paterson Paper Co. against the International Brotherhood of Paper Makers and its Local 500, of Bristol. Attorneys for the company said the suit was based on terms of the Taft-Hartley Act which enable an employer to sue labor unions for calling "illegal" strikes in violation of contracts.

The company asked the Federal District Court to award it $227,500 allegedly lost by the firm up until yesterday, and to assess additional damages of $3,500 daily as long as the strike continues.

Paterson spokesmen asserted that the firm's contract with Local 500, dated August 15, 1947, which was to run one year, was renewed last August 15.

This renewal was automatic, it was claimed, since neither party exercised the right to terminate the agreement on 60 days notice.

Yet, the company said, the union struck to enforce wage demands on August 20 and are still on strike.

Acting for Paterson Paper Co. was Attorney George E. Beechwood, of the Philadelphia law firm of Conlen, LaBrum & Beechwood.

A hearing scheduled for tomorrow in the Bucks County Court at Doylestown upon a bill in equity filed by the Paterson Paper Co. against the International Brotherhood of Paper Makers, Bristol Local No. 500, unincorporated associations, has been postponed until either November 4th or November 11th, upon request of an attorney in the case.

A rule upon the bill was issued by President Judge Hiram H. Keller.

Since the strike, it is alleged, some of the strikers have interfered with the maintenance men, who have been assigned to heating the plant and other details.

Says No One Here Should Have Missed Fine Play

By P. B. Frankmore (Bristol H. S. Faculty)

"The Taming of the Shrew," which was brought last evening from the National Classic Theatre of New York, proved to be a play of imaginative delicacy and charm; of wit and of romance, which in it are made to lie down together. And it was further, a play which ruffled the mind into activity and now and then left it panting—if we may assume that the mind can pant—on the edge of that relative precipice over which Einstein has many times stumbled, to vanish from the sight of ordinary, non-mathematical mortals.

Indeed, I think it was a play that no one in Bristol should have missed. It was a play of true distinction, and certainly "The Sisterhood of Abayath Achim" should continue to bring to our community such cultural aspects.

Thirteen Bristol Models Are Entered in Contest

Thirteen Bristol models were entered in the first annual New Jersey Exchange Club model contest, Sunday, at Trenton, N. J. Despite windy and rainy weather the contest ran on schedule until one p. m., when it was decided to postpone the meet until next Sunday. It is felt certain by the club leaders that several of the prizes could be won by the junior members of the Bristol club.

Plans are underway by Doylestown Model Club for a Bucks County model contest to be held next spring. In view of the lack of interest in any other type of event, only speed and stunt events will be held.

The Aeromodelers were represented in the Eastern States District AMA Conference, held at New York, N. Y., on Saturday. The club representative was Clarence Wells, who also served on the contest committee at the conference. Organization plans were discussed and finances discussed. Plans were initiated for the holding of one or two more free flight contests in the east than were held last year with the purpose of keeping this branch of the hobby alive longer. It was announced that out of 36 clubs represented all but four were composed of control line model flyers. Additional plans of interest were those to encourage model seaplanes, an eastern states rubber powered model meet, and plans for increasing the safety factor of high speed model flying.

William Lehman, of Doylestown, received recognition for having done the finest model club organization job in the east. He has increased the number of AMA licensed model flyers in Bucks County from 23 to 146 in one year.

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

An emergency fact-finding board opened hearings in Chicago on third-round wage and hour demands of 16 nonoperating railroad unions.

Members of the United States Atomic Energy Commission and the General Electric Company were sued for $1,000,000 damages by the CIO Electrical Union. The union asked an injunction to halt the order barring it as bargaining agent in atomic plants because its officers had refused to file non-Communist affidavits.

Labor difficulties troubled two European countries. A miner was killed and eight persons were wounded in clashes with Government forces in France. Finnish Communists were planning a general transport strike.

The five nations of the Western European Union decided to ask the United States to discuss a North Atlantic security pact. It was believed talks would start after the Presidential elections in the United States. In Washington the Navy promised to reach by next July its goal of 14,500 planes, including hundreds of jet fighters.

Public School News: LANGHORNE FACULTY PLANS MEETINGS

Designate Certain Afternoons When Schools Will Close

P. L. A. N. EVALUATION

LANGHORNE, Oct. 27.—The following afternoons have been reserved for faculty meetings of the elementary and secondary schools in the Langhorne-Middletown area: November 17, December 15, January 19, February 16, March 16, April 20, and May 18. On these days school will close at 12:10 and the pupils will be transported to their homes at that time.

This year the faculty is working through the evaluative criteria preparatory to having the secondary school accredited by the Middle-States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The procedure provides that the local high school faculty evaluate the school in every phase of its activities, on the basis of standards established by the Middle-States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

These standards include the philosophy and objectives of the school, pupil population and school community, curriculum and course of study, pupil activity program, library service, guidance service, instruction, outcomes of the education program, school staff, school plant, school administration and individual staff members. After the work of the local faculty has been completed, a reviewing committee consisting of ten to twelve leading educators will spend three days at the school reviewing and revising the work done by the local faculty. The report of the reviewing committee will be filed with the Middle-States Association.

A LOT FOR YOUR VOTE!

Are you looking for bargains? You can certainly find one in the simple task of putting one "X" in the Republican party column on your ballot next Tuesday.

Here's what you stand to gain by that single cross mark: National unity.

The Republican ticket is running as a "team." It has promised unity and cooperation in the government. That means, among other things, teamwork between Congress and President. This has been missing for years. The New Dealers wouldn't cooperate with each other, nor with anyone else. It is the foundation for unity and teamwork among the American people themselves.

World Leadership. The Republicans can make a fresh start in world affairs. They can erase some of the blunders of the past. They can unite the American people in a drive to rebuild a peace program dedicated to justice instead of appeasement. They can get rid of those in the government who are tired, discouraged and bewildered. America must lead the world—but first it must know where it is going!

Lower Prices. In the last analysis, we have high prices today because the New Dealers have been on the wrong track for fifteen years. Prices have climbed steadily since the New Deal began—they won't go down if Truman is re-elected. Republican emphasis on sound money, harmony between labor and capital, and peak production will bring them down.

Labor Peace. Under the last two Democratic Presidents, labor strife in America has broken all previous records. More than once it has threatened to break down the government and smash the country. The Republicans know how to maintain labor peace—the strike record was at its lowest in thirty years during the Republican administrations of the mid-twenties. The Republicans can lead the country back to normal, friendly relations between capital and labor.

AMNESIA VICTIM IS A BRISTOL RESIDENT

James McMenamin Has Been Residing at Delaware House, It is Said

'PHONE LIST OF AID

By International News Service PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 27.—(INS)—An amnesia victim who was found wandering in Fairmount Park last Saturday was identified yesterday afternoon as James McMenamin, 50, of Bristol.

The identity was made after a social service worker, Miss Margaret Kane, had read names from the telephone book to him for two days.

McMenamin was taken to Philadelphia General Hospital Saturday when he was unable to recall his name or address. Miss Kane began her long reading task the next day.

When she came to the McMenamins in the directory, he showed a flash of recognition and recalled that John J. McMenamin, of 771 Carver street, Philadelphia, was his brother.

A call was put through to the brother's home, where the victim's mother also lived. He recognized his mother's voice immediately. The relatives then went to the hospital and established positive identification.

McMenamin is employed at the Philco plant in Croydon. His wife and four children live in Philadelphia at 3313 Grambsburg street.

According to McMenamin's sister-in-law here, he had been employed by Philco Corporation for over 20 years, but was assigned to the Croydon plant about one month ago. She states he has been living at the Delaware House, Bristol.

BAIL SET FOR MAN FAILING TO REGISTER

James S. Lovett, Falling-ton, is Conscientious Objector

SERVED TERM IN 1943

By International News Service PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 27.—A young Quaker who served part of a prison term for a draft violation in 1943 was held in $1000 bail yesterday for failing to register under the new Selective Service Act.

The defendant, James S. Lovett, 23, of Falling-ton, Pa., was ordered held by U. S. Commissioner Ethan Allen Doty in Philadelphia.

FBI agents testified Lovett wrote to the U. S. Attorney General that he would not register because he was a conscientious objector attending a school operated by the American Friends Service Committee.

They added that Lovett also said he intended to go to China with his wife, Hazel, when he completed his studies.

In September, 1943, Lovett was pardoned by President Truman after serving one year of a three-year term for a draft violation.

The arrest and arraignment of Lovett, on the draft act charge was the first in this district under the new regulations.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Harry Wolow asked the court to set the bail and said his office expected numerous prosecutions of this type of violation. Commissioner Doty allowed Lovett to sign his own bail bond.

Opposing Wolow's plea for bail, Walter C. Longstrech, counsel for Lovett, said he would appeal.

Preacher's Car Strikes Woman at Crossing

A 46-year-old woman was struck and seriously injured by an automobile in crossing the highway at Quakertown, Bucks county, yesterday.

The victim, Mrs. Dorothy Tichborne, a hostess at a Quakertown restaurant, was taken to Quakertown Hospital with fractures of both legs.

According to police, the driver of the car was Rev. Eugene B. Harshberger, of Montclair avenue, Bethlehem, pastor of the Fritz Memorial Methodist Church in that city. He told them he was waiting at a stop light when Mrs. Tichborne crossed in front of him. The light changed when she was partly across, and the victim, apparently becoming confused, turned and started back as Mr. Harshberger put his automobile into gear. He was allowed to continue after questioning.

COURT ORDER MAY HALT SALE OF SPANS

New Jersey Superior Court Issues Restraining Order

GOV. DRISCOLL TO ACT

By International News Service TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 27.—Burlington County's purchase of the Tacony-Palmira and Burlington-Bristol bridges over the Delaware River faced double-barreled fire today.

Acquisition of the bridges by the county for a reported $12,500,000 last week was countered in two actions:

1. Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey announced he would take legal steps to set aside Burlington's purchase of the toll bridges.

2. Judge Robert Kinkadee of the New Jersey Superior Court, issued a restraining order returnable Nov. 4 against the Burlington County Bridge Commission. The writ was issued in Jersey City.

The jurist's order restrained the commission and the County Freeholders, who approved the purchases, from delivering bonds involved in the transaction or from otherwise acting as owners of the spans.

Henry S. Haines, of Burlington city, and Richard J. Lippincott, of Camden, were named as defendants.

"POST-WAR JAPAN" IS SUBJECT FOR ROTARY

Mrs. Antonin Raymond, of New Hope, Tells of Nat'l Inferiority Complex

IS BENSALAM SPEAKER

ANDALUSIA, Oct. 27.—Bensalem Rotary Club rounded out its "international month" last evening with Mrs. Antonin Raymond, of New Hope, as guest speaker.

Mrs. Raymond, a noted fabric designer and architect, spoke on "Post-War Japan." Although Mrs. Raymond has not lived in Japan since the war, she can speak from long experience with the Japanese, having spent 20 years in Japan with her husband, Mr. Raymond, also an architect, designed the Imperial Hotel in Tokyo.

"Japan," said Mrs. Raymond, "has not changed noticeably since the war. People who have lived in Japan always want to return." She related how the Japanese for centuries excluded all foreigners and had little contact with the outer world, and compared that nation with a child reared in separation from all other children, which resulted in a national inferiority complex.

"Japan never really understood the world," she said.

HALF CAN BE CURED

Good news travels slowly. That is why there are still many Americans who think of cancer as simply an "incurable" disease. And this attitude may cost some of them their lives, if it leads them to postpone treatment until too late.

Three distinguished cancer specialists were asked at a recent surgical convention how many of the 5,000,000 Americans who now have cancer could be cured if they got proper treatment promptly. Each doctor, without knowing what the others had replied, said 50 per cent.

This is about double the figure of 20 years ago. New methods of treatment, with use of antibiotics and liberal blood transfusions, have greatly improved chances of recovery. The present possibility of cure is evidently considerably higher than 50 per cent, as many of the 2,500,000 the doctors estimated could not now be cured did not receive the early treatment that might have saved them.

Cancer is still a leading cause of death. In the present state of medical knowledge, it cannot always be cured. But neither can most other serious diseases. No disease can rightly be labeled "incurable" when more than half of its victims can be saved if it is diagnosed early and treated right.

It might arouse false hopes to cry: "Cancer is curable!" But many cases are. A defeatist attitude on the part of the victims and their friends gives anarchy cancer cells a better chance to win the battle.

As they have every year since 1904, new model automobiles use less gas, have easier steering, better riding, improved brakes, increased visibility, are lower, wider and safer, etc. Also, cannot be gotten in or out of with your hat on, cannot be parked without caving the side in, cannot be driven without sounding as if all tires were flat, and are timmer generally.

Low taxes.

The Republican party, which met the financial crises caused by the Civil War and the First World War (both Wars started under Democratic Presidents) can clean up the financial mess caused by the Second World War (also started under a Democratic President). This means conquering inflation, paying off the war debts, cutting Federal spending back to essentials—and keeping taxes down to what you can afford to pay.

Fire The Communists!

For several years, it seems to have been simple for any "deserving" Communist to get a job on the Federal payroll, where he could work to undermine the American government while drawing a fat salary paid by the American people. This must stop! The country will follow the pattern of other nations which were wrecked from the inside by such Fifth Columnists, if these enemies are not ousted. The Republicans will oust them.

This list could be longer—many other items might be included. But it is long enough to prove that next Tuesday is going to be Bargain Day.

The way to get the most for your effort in going to the polls and voting is to put a single cross-mark after the word Republican, where you will find it in the first or left-hand column on the ballot.

Inside Your Congress*Important Labor Decision

—by—
SAMUEL B. PETTINGILL
"The Gentleman from Indiana"

It appears to be the law of the land that a member of a labor union cannot "get ahead" on his own. He cannot win a wage increase as a result of his own industry. Wage increases, based on individual merit, cannot be granted by his employer. They must be negotiated through the union. In short, industrious men must always be under obligation to their union officials; never to themselves.

This is a far cry from the old luck and pluck days. "Follow grease," initiative, and industry are in the discard. A federal court has decided that an employer cannot grant pay increases to individual workmen for meritorious performance without first negotiating the matter with the union. The U. S. Supreme Court has refused to review this decision, which amounts to upholding it.

If America is right, this decision, or the Wagner Act upon which it is based, is wrong. This country was built because it offered men the chance to win extra reward by extra work. It was built on the faith that man should have the right to "have and to hold" an earned reward, free from all claims except the necessary taxes to support government.

This decision, of course, makes the labor official more solid on his throne. But it does not help the plight of the ambitious workingman and his family. Employers, who want to reward individual merit, are not apt to spend long hours "negotiating" a single workingman's pay increase with union officials.

Millions of employees must want to participate in profit sharing, or incentive pay, such as has been worked out so successfully by the Lincoln Electric Company, of Cleveland, and other farsighted managements. But incentive pay systems must be based on individual contributions to the output of the plant. Otherwise, they either do not produce the extra effort, or the company goes broke. Lincoln Electric has no union. Its men want none.

Even piece-work pay is frowned on by union bosses, however much desired by their members. Piece-work pay permits a man to "hoe his own row." He is paid for what he does and not according to the law of averages.

This decision takes from the ambitious the right to manage their own payrolls; to increase their earnings according to their performance.

It is right for unions to negotiate basic or minimum rates of pay. But employer and employee should still be free to bargain individually for extra work. This decision arose under the old Wagner Act. If the new Taft-Hartley Law has not removed this barrier to success, it should be so amended.

Another important N. L. R. B. case holds, for the first time, that under some circumstances, a striker may be permanently replaced and excluded from voting in a collective bargaining election. Heretofore, a man might leave his job, on strike, and still retain a vested right in that job when the strike ended. The decision by the National Labor Relations Board, is limited to "economic" strikes, that is, for wage increases and related demands, and not to strikes on account of alleged illegal practices by the employer.

Soby Cadet Uniforms To Add Color To Event

The blue and white uniforms of Jesse W. Soby Post Cadets, of Langhorne, will add color to the "Parade of Champions" on Bristol high school field, Saturday evening.

This junior drum and bugle corps from Langhorne which will enter the competition, is claimed to be one of the outstanding organizations of its kind in competition today.

"Well drilled, and giving forth with good music, they put on a fine show," state those in charge of the plans for Saturday's event. The Soby Post cadets are winners of several competitions this year. They have always finished near the top. Fifty-five girls and boys make up the organization, with an all-girl color squad. "They will be watching in this contest," it is stated.

Joseph Zalot is commander of the corps. The events of the evening will start at 7:30 under lights.

mittie is sent to the Executive Secretary of the Middle-States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

An executive council meets and reviews the reports that have been received from the committees who have evaluated secondary schools, seeking admission to membership in the Association. The executive council examines the educational standards of the school in relation to National norms. If the school stands high enough on the evaluation to be approved, a formal letter is sent to the chief administrative officer informing him that the school is accepted for membership in the Association.

It is the opinion of the school authorities here that the Langhorne-Middletown high school will meet the standards very acceptably in certain respects. They are cognizant of certain shortcomings which it is believed can be corrected with time.

The elementary faculty is studying problems relating to instruction, citizenship, character building, audio-visual-aid and the use of community resources. Last year the work of the elementary staff was sent to the Department of Public Instruction, and in turn these studies were used for a State Elementary Bulletin which is due to be published early in 1949.

Refreshments were served by the following: Mrs. Rene Beecher, Mrs. Emily Givens, Mrs. Marjorie Cameron, Mrs. Sylvia Bowker, Mrs. Mildred Trendler, Mrs. Sarah Vandegrift, Mrs. Elsie Oldham.

Miss Ella Mae Potts was a weekend visitor at the home of her parents.

the western nations," according to Mrs. Raymond, "all of which caused a mutual misunderstanding between the peoples of that nation and the rest of the world."

"The Japanese developed their own type of culture, exquisite in nature, and with a fine ingrained philosophy due to this self isolation. Although the occupation forces have perhaps caused quite a turn in the lives of the people the Japanese still maintain their sense of decorum and behavior much as before."

Mrs. Raymond spoke of many examples of the spirit of self-reliance as shown in the Japanese schools, and in the face of great emergencies such as the earthquake of 1923. She also commented on the great skill of the Japanese workman in the building trades. "Unions do not exist as trade unions as we know them, but rather as a family group. All the workers on a project are under the supervision of the contractor or foreman who is in turn entirely responsible for the workers' welfare both on and off the job."

In drawing a contrast between our own manner of living and that of the Japanese, Mrs. Raymond told in detail of her experiences, together with Mr. Raymond, in designing and actually constructing a life-size model of a Japanese town in this country during the past war. This model, complete in every detail to houses, streets, buildings, and interior furnishings, was used by the army for bomb practice. "All of this resulted in a new type of bomb which could be and was used to great effect on actual Japanese cities," the speaker informed.

"The usual types of bombs had to that time little effect on Japanese buildings due to flimsy nature of construction. Bombs could literally run through a wall without destroying it." Guests at the meeting included Howard B. Conover, Harry B. Williams, of Palmyra-Riverton Club, and Clement Brennan, of Treves, Phillip G. Mack presided; and group singing was led by James Carson.

Edward B. Peacock, recruiting representative of the Friends group, told the court that Lovett would not be sent overseas or out of the country until the case had been concluded.

For a Strong, United America Put this Winning Team in Washington

For strength and security at home and abroad, we must have a united nation. That calls for teamwork in government, teamwork between government and the people. It demands the ablest leadership.

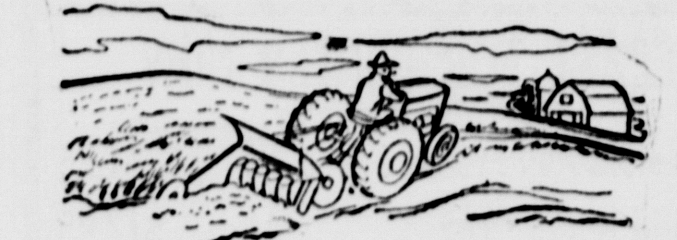

Their lifetime records prove that Dewey and Warren will provide such leadership: They will untangle, unravel and unsnarl the muddled mess in Washington. They will deal intelligently and firmly with high prices, including the high price of government. They will establish clear-cut, consistent policies which will build a real foreign relations program and restore our leadership to world peace. They will unite Americans in teamwork with each other and with the world.

What have they done? Here's just a part of the record:

As Governors of two of our greatest states, they have given the people well-organized and well-run government. They have cut out waste and extravagance, saved money for the taxpayers, reduced the public debt. New York taxpayers were saved 800 million dollars through Dewey's tax cuts; in California, Warren's tax reductions amounted to 500 millions.

Dewey and Warren do more than talk about tolerance; they have put it into law and practice. They do more than talk about cleaning up corruption and crime; as the nation's most successful district attorneys, they closed the rackets and jailed the racketeers. You can depend on this—there will be no Communists in a government headed by Dewey and Warren!

These candidates are men of action, not just talkers. Dewey's low-rent housing plan, America's No. 1 attack on slums, provided homes for 160,000. Warren's administration has kept Californians housed all through the most rapid population growth in history. Both have outstanding programs for veterans.

They know the needs of agriculture, labor and business, because California and New York are leaders in industry and farming. They understand the people's everyday problems, because they know what it is to be poor—both of them started at the bottom and went to the top by making good on every job.

They've done it before; they'll do it again—for all the people of the United States!

For Teamwork in Government, Elect

And for complete teamwork, elect a Congress that will work with Dewey and Warren: Re-elect the Congress that reduced your income taxes against the bitter opposition of a Democrat Administration; the Congress that freed the 7½ million lowest-income taxpayers from all income taxes; that protected the rights of all workers; the 80th Congress that carried out the will of the people.

As a result the company took action and Judge Keller set tomorrow for a hearing in the matter in court, at which time the defendants, who were served with notice of the action by officers from the Bucks county sheriff's office, were to have been heard.

Set Date For Ingathering, Exhibition of Garments

The Bristol Branch of the Needlework Guild of America will hold its annual ingathering at the community house, Dorrance street, on November 4th at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Mrs. Bartman, of the "House of Industry," Philadelphia, will be the speaker.

Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting, and the garments collected will be on exhibition. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The Needlework Guild of America—"the charity that helps other charities"—began its career in 1885. Ever since that time, it has helped thousands of hospitals, orphanages and welfare organizations with new clothing and shoes. A very large number of garments is used locally to help families in time of disaster and those who need help for various reasons.

Officers ask: "Why not become a member now? You are a member if you give two new articles (of the same size) a year. Call any of the directors or Mrs. Walter W. Pitzenka-3869—and we will enroll you."

There are 540 branches of the Guild with a national donation of 1,000,000 garments each year.

These are days of all sorts of examinations. We are "tested" everytime we start something new. . . whether it be a job, a school, or other secular interest. But how many of us would pass an examination on our spiritual lives? Take a piece of paper and jot down these headings: attendance, giving, time given to church work, attitude, store of knowledge. Remember, these topics are all in relation to your church. Each topic is worth ten points. Grade yourself according to your opinion, 7 being fair, 5 not so good, and so on. If you have a total of 25 points, you're about average. If you fall below that, then you have the answer to the question, "What is wrong with the world today?"

AUCTION?

Just about a year ago the management of the Bargain Corner felt that the people of Bristol and surrounding communities would enjoy a weekly auction sale—to sell for the people any household items they did not want—and to buy what they need. The sale had to be held indoors and in a heated building. We think the Bargain Corner is the answer.

Since we started we can safely say that many a home has been completely furnished through our sales.

Where and how we buy our merchandise is a long, long story. All we can say is that you, as a buyer, benefit by our bargain prices.

Many new items were sold at our sales way below the cost of manufacturing them.

Many is the time when a buyer offers a dollar for an item and we in turn sell it to him for fifty cents.

We would like to relate some of the Buys Made Here:

A lady bought a box of stationery for 25c. When she opened the box, under the envelopes she found a dollar bill.

At another sale a man bought a fishing pole for $6. While riding home on a bus he sold the pole for $10.

Not long ago a man bought a cabinet model radio for 50c. He took it home and found that it plays perfectly. You can't buy that radio today for $50.

One sales night we sold a hearing aid to a deaf man for 25c, and it worked perfectly. He can hear anything now.

That's the way it goes! We could go on and on to tell of the marvelous buys made here, but time and space will not permit.

One thing we do say, and that is we will continue to make good buys and pass them on to you.

Stop in to see us. We may have just what you want. Sell us what you don't want.

We thank you for your patronage.

In the second quarter, Harry Saul climaxed a 40-yard drive with a 6-yard end run to score a touchdown while the final counter was scored by "Ed" France on a short end run. Eisenbrey kicked the extra point after Saul's scored but missed the third try.

KEYSTONE FIRST
PITTSBURGH, — (INS) — Recent figures reveal that Pennsylvania turned out more electrical equipment during 1947 than any other state in the union. The Keystone State manufacturers a large part of the generating apparatus, transformers, circuit breakers and other products necessary to furnish power to factories, homes and farms.
